EMPLOYING ALIEN LABOR

SENATORS VENTILATE AN IN-

A Profusion of Roses and Bandanas is the House-Democrats and Republicans Appland the News From St Louis-Mr. Weaver and Mr. Funston.

Immediately after the reading of the jour nal yesterday the Senate, on motion of Mr. erman, proceeded to executive business After a few minutes the doors were reopened and the presiding officer laid before the Senate a message from the President returning, without his approval, a bill penslouling a widow on the ground that the death of the husband (for which the pension was allowed) had nothing to do with millary service, but was the result of suichle.

On a motion to refer the message and bill to the committee on pensions, Mr. Blair re-marked that these veto messages were uniformly unjust, and that they might as well se discussed at once, as they are never re norted back.

Mr. Cockrell took issue with that state Mr. Cockrell took issue with that state-ment, and remarked that the legitimate way to deal with such vetoes was to refer them to the committee, and for that com-mittee to report them back, when they could be discussed and veted on on their merits. The message and bill were referred to the committee on pensions. The Senate then resumed consideration of the diplomatic and consular appropriation bill.

the diplomatic and consular appropriation bill.

Mr. Hale stated that the committee on foreign relations had considered the proposition of Mr. Call to fix the salary of the minister resident to Paraguay and Uruguay at $7.500, and had agreed to it. The bill was therefore amended accordingly.

On motion of Mr. Spooner the consulate at Prague (Austria-Hungary) was taken from class 5 (salary $2,000) and placed in class 3 (salary $3,000). The bill was then passed.

ered. The Senate then proceeded to business on The Senate then proceeded to business on the calendar, resuming consideration of the House bill to prevent the employment of alien labor upon public buildings or other public works and in the various departments of the government, the question being on the amendment offered last Monday by Mr. Teller adding a clause requiring public works to be constructed wholly of materials made, and prepared within the United States and bids and contracts to be confined to citizens of the United States.

Mr. Blair objected to the amendment as calculated to retard the passage of the act.

Mr. Teller insisted that if the bill was right the amendment was right.

Mr. Itawley expressed the hope that the Senate was aware of the nature of the bill. He regarded it as belonging to a narrow and illiberal class of Legislation.

It shut out from employment all poor to the bill.

It shut out from employment all poor men who had just arrived from a foreign It shut out from employment all poor men who had just arrived from a foreign country, and who were looking around for the chance to earn a dollar by carrying a hod or wheeling a barrow.

Was it possible (he asked) to imagine the car of Russia (often held up as the whekedest man going) adopting more severe measures against an American stranded in Russia? The penalties provided in the bill against a contractor who happened to employ allen labor were out of proportion, cruel, and unusual. He feared that the committee on education and labor (which had reported the bill) had not given it that consideration which it should have given it.

Mr. Blair, chairman of the committee on education and labor, defended the bill. It was not a new proposition, he said. A like bill had passed both houses in the hast Congress, but had failed to get executive approval—probably from lack of time. It would work no hardship on bona file inmigrants, who could, immediately on their arrival, declare their intention to become citizens.

Mr. Vance remarked that it was a very gravils, who could, immediately on their arrival, declare their intention to become citizens.

Mr. Vance remarked that it was a very important bill, embracing a considerable departure from the principles of both great parties. Inasmuch as there was no quorum present, he objected to further consideration of the bill.

The bill, was therefore 1sid aside and Mr., Blair gave notice that he would call it up as soon as possible.

On motion of Mr. Morrill the Senate bill authorizing the purchase of a site for the accommodation of the Supreme Court of the United States (bounded by B street north, First and Second streets east, and East Capitol street) was taken up and passed, after the rejection of an amendment offered by Mr. Stewart to strike out a provision that the prices paid shall not exceed those at which the same lots have heretofore been offered to the government.

On motion of Mr. Camerou, the Senate bill in relation to cadets at the naval academy was passed. (It provides that the number of appointments from graduates of the naval academy to positions in the lower grades of the line and engineer corps of the navy or the marine corps shall not be less than twenty in each year—fifteen to the

Among the other bills faken from the calendar and passed were the following:

Mr. Stewart gave notice that he would today move a suspension of the rule against general legislation in appropriation bills so as to allow him to offer an amendment to the legislative appropriation bill.

The amendment proposes to allow any person to deposit at any United States mint or assay office gold or silver buillon (not less than 5 ounces of gold or 80 ounces of silver) and demand and receive therefor coin certificates to be a legal tender. Portions of the bullion so deposited are to be coined from time to time to supply coin for the redemption of such certificates, and the provision of the act of Feb. 28, 1878, requiring the purchase of not less than $2,000,000 worth of silver per month is to be repealed.

The following bills were taken from the repealed.

Mr. Caine, of Utab, called up the Senate bill providing for an additional associate jusdee for the supreme court of Utah, and it was passed, with an amendment authorizing the governor to assign the justice to temporary duty in the busiest judicial districts.

Mr. Hemphill, of South Carolina, presented the conference reports on the bills to incorporate the Eckington and Soldiers' Home Railroad Company and the Rock Creek Railroad Company of the District of Columbia, which were agreed to.

After debate, participated in by Mr. Boothman, of Ohio Mr. Outhwaite, of Ohio, and Mr. Sherman, of New York, the motion was rejected and the paragraph was passed over, as well as the next—"Lathe," by the country from which they are imported.

Mr. Dingley, of Maine, proposed an amendment continuing existing duties on the lumber schedules wherever the exporting country denied our vessels the right to touch and trade and take batt.

Mr. Cox, of New York, created a diversion by having read a dispatch from St. Louis announcing Cieveland's nomination by seclamation. The Democrats burst into applause, and Mr. Tarsney, who had the floor, waved his bandana rapturously. There was a moment of silence on the Hegorian side, followed by a storm of cheers and hand-clapping to answer the other side. Mr. Tarsney, speaking upon the lumber industries, having declared that the laborer was not become by Mr. Weaver, of Iowa, and Mr. Function, of Kansas. Neither was entitled to the floor, but they shook their flugers at each other and shouted out unfinitellightic statements for five minutes, while the chair pounded the desk and called in van for order, and the House was in confusion. When the tunuit subsided Mr. Brewer, of Michigan, asked Mr. Tarsney if he was in flavor of free lumber.

the committee as a patriot should, even if it hurt some of his constituents. [Democratic applaines].

Finally Mr. Weaver and Mr. Funston got the floor and renewed their colloquy to the great anuscement of the House. Mr. Funston charged the Democratic party with putting a hax on wire for barbed fences, and seked why they did not take it off.

Mr. Weaver asked if Mr. Funston would vote with him to take off that tax as well as the tax on lumber, and declared that he would convict him (Mr. Funston) of disregarding the directions of his constituents to make lumber free.

Mr. Breckinridge, of Kentucky, offered an amendment to Mr. Dingley's amendment, providing that whenever Canada shall grant to the fishing and other vessels of the United States commercial privileges and the right to buy balt and provisions and to transiship cargoes, then herring, mackerel, almon, and other fish, pickled, smoked, or preserved, except sardines and anchories in off, from that country shall be admitted duty free, and providing that whenever Canada admits to free entry articles produced in the United States, a similar privileges shall be granted in the case of like Cauadian products. After an explanation of the amendment by Mr. Breckinridge, Mr. Dingley opposed it on the ground that it was an effort to buy privileges from canada, to which this country was of right entitled. Without action upon the amendments the committee rose, on motion of Mr. Peel, of Arkansas, the House immediately went again into committee of the whole to act upon the Senate amendments to the Indian appropriation bill.

These were generally non concurred in. The courmittee rose, and the bill was sent to conference.

The House then, at 4:30, adjourned.

saw Detroit win the fourth consecutive game from the local club yesterday, and thereby step into second position in the race for the pennant.

That the result was not different is us fault of O'Day's; he pitched a winning game, the champions securing only seven hits, no more than two of which came tothe field or with the bat would have turned the scal or win the sat would have turned the scale in favor of the home team. men were stealing to second and sulked all through the last part of the game after Daniels had refused to allow him to leave the field on second of alleged sickness. O'Brien Schoch, and Donnelly also made strores, but only the one at first affected the score. Myers played a good game at second. Wilmot covered left field in grand style, and Dally made the star play of the game on a fly from White, which he captured close to the ground at the foot line and threw out Rowe, who had gone to second, thinking the hit a safe one.

Gruber was as much of a stumbling block to the Senators as all pitchers seem to be this year, and kept them down to three hits—one a short infield roller, which the nimble Roy beat to first. The lattery work of Gruber and the veteran Bennett was a pleasure to lock at, and the whole Detroit infield played an even and machine-like game, which had little interference from any hard drives of the Wesbingtons. The home team got the first run on a force hit by Myers, a steal, Hoy's hit, and Donnelly's sarrifac. The second was scored in the sixth on Richardson's fumble of Daily's grounder, a short throw by Bennett, Schoon's out at first, and Wilmot's grounder to right. O'Brien gave a foul thy to Bennett, who shot the ball to first and caught Wilmot off the bag.

Detroit scored in the second on Rowe's grounder to left, Donnelly's failure to handle Twitchell's hot shot, and Deasley's bad throw, but was caught at the plate, when Hennett hit to O'Brien, Gruber's three-base hit to left brought he catcher home.
